VACANCY FOR YEAR 2 CLASS TEACHER
(Main scale 1-6 National Pay & Conditions Apply)

Post: Full Time, fixed-term post, 1 year initially with a view to a permanent position

Required from: September 2019

Do you want to work with curious children who ask lots of questions?
Do you believe in enquiry-led learning?
Are you a keen and enthusiastic key stage 1 teacher?
Are you ready for a challenge?

An opportunity has been created for Malton Community Primary School to recruit an inspirational class teacher. Malton is a unique and forward-thinking school. We believe in our pupils, and our staff, and encourage everyone to aspire high. If you come to work at our school you will have the opportunity to develop your own enquiries, based on the national curriculum, which allow you to deploy innovative approaches to your teaching. Our curriculum promotes the development of knowledge whilst enabling our children to develop essential skills for learning now and later in life.

We are looking for an enthusiastic and outstanding key stage 1 teacher with knowledge, vision and courage to build on the school’s success to date and move the school on to its next stage of development. We believe that we can help you grow as a practitioner by supporting you with structures and systems which are consistent across the school.

You will have regular opportunities to visit other educational establishments, in other local authorities, participate in extensive and high quality CPD and you will be provided with a mentor in school.

Our commitment to inclusion underpins everything we do. Our school is passionate about providing a nurturing environment to encourage the building of good quality relationships. We are an enhanced mainstream school for pupils with SEMH and provide additional support for children with emotional, social and mental health difficulties in over 30 schools.

Outstanding behaviour management and high expectations of presentation are essential to this role.

A successful candidate will display:

- Excellent behaviour management
- Inspirational and innovative teaching strategies
- Excellent strategies for giving children quality, real-time feedback that develops their knowledge, skills and understanding
- Ability to promote all-round excellence/ develop the whole child
- Excellent approaches to developing relationships with parents
- Excellent organisational skills
- Strong communication and inter-personal skills at all levels
• In-depth understanding of teaching and pedagogy
• A passion for life-long learning and a firm commitment to continued professional development
• Excellent classroom practice and a track record of high pupil achievement
• The ability to work as part of a team
• Drive, passion and a sense of humour
• Strong commitment to continued professional development and classroom based research

In return, we can offer:

• Continued professional development and subject leadership opportunities for experienced candidates
• A supportive leadership team who are working hard to remove onerous tasks and paperwork from your job
• A clear vision for school development
• Highly motivated pupils
• A tidy and organised learning environment which is constantly updated and renewed to support you
• Improving academic results and a vibrant approach to the curriculum programme
• A highly skilled, creative, committed and energetic staff team who all want the very best for our pupils and will help you every step of the way
• Strong partnerships with other schools through the Esk Valley Teaching School Alliance and other working relationships

This is not always an easy school to work in. We work hard on a daily basis and are trying to improve our outcomes at all ages. Working well with others is essential to this role. You will need to be committed to working hard and promoting our ethos and values of respect, collaboration, enquiry and determination at all times.
